FIS has been named a World's Most Admired Company by FORTUNE magazine.

The FORTUNE study measures companies with the strongest reputation within their industries. FIS was one of only a small number of financial technology providers on the 2022 FORTUNE list. FIS received high marks for global competitiveness, financial soundness, innovation, quality of products and services, people management, social responsibility, and use of corporate assets.

"It's an honor to be recognized once again by our peers for FORTUNE's Most Admired Companies list," said Gary Norcross, FIS chairman and CEO. "We're proud of this recognition because it underscores our differentiating ability to unlock a broad spectrum of financial technology to advance how the world pays, banks and invests."

The FORTUNE World's Most Admired Companies list is based on survey results from thousands of executives, directors and analysts at companies worldwide. Respondents rate companies in their own industry on nine factors, which include investment value as well as social responsibility. Each respondent then selects 10 companies he or she admires most.
